

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES

PI: ANNA J. COULBECK

50 Chilswell Road, Oxford, England, UK. OX1 4PJ
Tel: +44 (0) 7980 3777 52 Email: anna.coulbeck@volcan.org

EDUCATION

MSc Science Media Production., Imperial College London, UK	2005
Field Methods in Volcanology., CSAV, University of Hawai'i, Hilo	2004
BSc Geology with Science Communication., Royal Holloway, University of London, UK	2004

RESEARCH AND PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Employment

Project Executive, ON Communication, Oxford, UK	2007 – present
Production Assistant, ON Communication, Oxford, UK	2005 – 2007
Volcan, Inc. Nonprofit Volcanic Hazards Mitigation Team, Austin, Texas, USA	2006 – present
Course Leader, Surrey County Council Forensic Summer School, Egham, Surrey, UK	2005
Researcher, BBC Radio Science Unit, London, UK	2005
Researcher, BBC Wales, Cardiff, UK	2003-2005

Tasks and positions of last 5 years:

2007-present	Project Executive for ON Communication, an agency specializing in communication of geological, environmental and energy sector topics. Producer of film projects, occasional directing. Author of proposals and scripts.
2005-2007	Production Assistant for ON Communication. Involved in all film productions – communicating geological topics, creating paper edits, producing films, researching and helping to organize shoots.
2006-present	Science Media Communications Specialist of Volcan, Inc., a non-profit corporation working in small indigenous communities to help reduce risk from threat of volcanic hazards. Document, via all available channels, the visible threat of volcanoes.

ASSOCIATED ORGANIZATIONS

Volcan.org. Founding member since 2006.